

After the Lakers win the NBA championship the LAPD arrested at least 45 people connected to violent behavior, but that could be just the beginning - The Los Angeles police department is reviewing hundreds and even thousands of images that have been taken by surveillance cameras, police videos, facebook, Twitter(the list isn't ending soon).....for more evidence as the result of criminal behavior. There was a video released on Youtube of people smashing and setting fire to a Taxi Cab, the arson's unit is asking for the help of the public to identify the people that are responsible for this damage.The LAPD officials claim they have gotten several solid tips and even if this takes a few weeks or months it's worth the effort to find all the people that are responsible, personally I feel there were so many people who lost control that I do hope that justice will be served.Check out the NBA Championship and place your bets on your favorite team at William Sports!
